

Neuro-Ethics

Speaker Series
Center for Professional and Applied Ethics
UNC Charlotte

Series Cosponsors: North Carolina Biotechnology Center, Department of Philosophy

Richard Robeson, Adjunct Professor of Social Medicine, Department of Social Medicine, UNC School of Medicine

“Drawn and Quartered—Medicine, Motivation, and the Student Athlete:” A Performed Case Study with Discussion, Concerning the Intersection of Collegiate Athletics, Ethics, and Bioethics

Wed., Sept. 18: 3:30-5:00pm, Cone 113 (public lecture)

Dan Moseley (Clinical Assistant Professor, Dept. psychiatry, UNC Chapel Hill)

“Neuroethics, Identity, and Free Will”

Wed., Oct 2: 3:30-5:00, Cone 113 (public lecture)
Thurs., Oct. 3: 12:30-2:00, Cone 113 (lunch workshop**)

** due to limited seating please RSVP to ethics@uncc.edu

Judy Illes (Professor of Neurology and Canada Research Chair in Neuroethics, University of British Columbia)

“Ethics, Society, and Advances in Brain Science”

Tues., March 25: 12:30-2:00, Cone 210 (lunch/workshop**)

“Genes and the Brain: Ethical Issues at the Nexus of Genomics and Neuroscience”

Tues., March 25: 3:30-5:00, Cone 210 (public lecture)

Additional Co-Sponsors: Wake Forest University, Davidson College

Series Co-Sponsors: North Carolina Biotechnology Center, and the Department of Philosophy

